

Corporate Activity Days

All our Corporate Activity Days are designed to meet the specific needs of each customer. This means that for a small company operating on a small budget, a full day's programme of inexpensive activities can be developed for any group size.

The chart below shows the approximate cost of a day, followed by the additional costs of including some of the motorised and other more expensive activities. These are priced per person, and are reduced as the group size increases.

Corporate Activity Days are frequently arranged on a competitive basis with participants divided into teams and each team undertaking a circuit of activities for a fixed period of time.

To complement each event, we can provide, if required, a comprehensive range of catering services on site, including marquees and a BBQ area.
